

Note:
Classes marked with * signifies that this is only a place holder to show relationships between classes. These classes, their attributes and operations, are shown in detail on a different page of the class diagram. Please seach the other pages to find more details on these classes.

